

NCERA– 216 Latino Focused Webinars

“Latinos 2025: A Needs Assessment of Latino Communities in Southeast Michigan”

Join us on

Wednesday, November 18, 2015

Time: 12pm, CST 1pm, EST

This webinar will report findings from a one year needs assessment on Latinos in Southeast Michigan. How does the well-being of the Latino population compare to other demographic groups? What are the critical needs of the Latino communities in Southeast Michigan? The analysis highlights findings about the needs that go unmet and lead to recommendations. Future directions for looking at Latinos throughout Michigan and the United States are addressed.

Dr. Rubén O. Martinez is the Director of the Julian Samora Research Institute at Michigan State University. He is a nationally known scholar with expertise in the areas of higher education, race and ethnic relations, and diversity leadership. His areas of specialization include leadership and institutional change, education and ethnic minorities, youth development, and environmental justice.

Sponsored by NCERA-216, Latino and Immigrants in Midwestern Communities and North Central Region Center for Rural Development (NCRCD), and University of Missouri - Extension, and the Julian Samora Research Institute at Michigan State University.

Questions: Email Dr. Pilar Horner at phorner@msu.edu.

WEDNESDAY, November 18, 2015,

12pm CST, 1pm EST

To connect to the webinar, please go to:

https://univmissouri.adobeconnect.com/_a777176616/r5ldwhgp5z7/

“Enter as a guest.” Type your name (first and last) into the text box provided, and click on “enter room.” You are now in the meeting room for this webinar.